Priority

1. Applicant's claim for the benefit of a prior-filed application under 35 U.S.C. 119(e) or under 35 U.S.C. 120, 121, or 365(c) is acknowledged. Applicant has not complied with one or more conditions for receiving the benefit of an earlier filing date under 35 U.S.C. [1] as follows:

The later-filed application must be an application for a patent for an invention which is also disclosed in the prior application (the parent or original nonprovisional application or provisional application). The disclosure of the invention in the parent application and in the later-filed application must be sufficient to comply with the requirements of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112. See Transco Products, Inc. v. Performance Contracting, Inc., 38 F.3d 551, 32 USPQ2d 1077 (Fed. Cir. 1994).

The disclosure of the prior-filed applications, Application No. 08/932,190 and 09/382,969, fails to provide adequate support or enablement in the manner provided by the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112 for one or more claims of this application. The disclosure of the current application is different from the disclosures of the earlier applications. Thus, the current application's effective filing date is the date of the provisional application 60/235,796, filed 9-27-2000.

Response to Arguments

2. Applicant's arguments with respect to the claims have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

Application/Control Number: 09/721,326

Art Unit: 2662

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

4. Claims 1, 2, 5-7, 10, 13-16, 18-22, 24, 27-31, 35, 40-47, 49-61, 63-81, 83-86 and 88-150 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being clearly anticipated by Breed et al. (US 6,370,475 B1)

Breed teaches an accident avoidance system, wherein vehicles retransmits information from vehicle to vehicle (column 39, line 64 to column 40, line 7; and column 40, line 62 to column 41, line 17). While the vehicle is described as retransmitting all received data (column 41, lines 8-11), it is inherent that control data that is only intended for a particular vehicle is not retransmitted (i.e. vehicle specific data in column 25, lines 38-65) since such data is not relevant to other vehicles. With respect to disconnection and reconnection, the feature of storing the information would appear to be an inherent feature in Breed since a vehicle that has been turned off and thus disconnected temporarily (such as turning the engine off at a rest area or gas station) would expect the information (such as traffic or weather) when it is reconnected. Further, Breed's system can also be used for aircraft (column 51, lines 51-58).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

- 5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:
 - (a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.
- 6. Claim 82 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Breed et al.

Breed does not teach using their system in marine vehicles. However, Breed does suggest other uses such as aircraft, which is known to have accidents (column 51, lines 51-58). Marine vehicles are known to have accidents (i.e. two boats can collide). Therefore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to apply Breed's system in other vehicles known to have accidents since a skilled artisan would have been motivated to avoid collisions in those vehicles.
